Our Jamón Serrano range covers all your operational needs whilst guaranteeing unique quality and homogeneity every time. This is due to our integrated process control where we place great emphasis on the quality of our raw materials, with our own livestock, animal feed exclusively developed by us and breeding conducted on our farms. We then cure the ham in the traditional way we are famous for.

We reach consumers in over 80 countries all over the world, with fresh and processed traditional Spanish gastronomy products and versions adapted to the specific tastes of each market.

Integrated Process Control (IPC)

EL POZO has an Integrated Process Control (IPC) system. This system allows us to control the most important aspects throughout the entire PRODUCTION PROCESS, from the animal's feeding and breeding to slaughtering, meat cutting and processing, with the aim of guaranteeing a quality product, that is healthy and tasty.

We have obtained the most demanding certifications

Together we are Stronger
